COOPER AND WILLIS PLEAD FOR ECONOMY IN G. O. P. OPENING

Ohio Candidates Promise to Follow the Example of President Coolidge

Republican Nominee for Governor Pledges Appointment of Men of Unquestioned Integrity to Public Utilities Commission.

NEWARK, OHIO, (Special).—The 1926 campaign of the Republican party in Ohio was formally opened here Wednesday, near the birthplace of Myers V. Cooper, candidate for governor, with hundreds of enthusiastic Republicans present from all sections of the state.

A militant spirit prevailed among the groups of marching clubs, bands and glee clubs, which was hailed as a harbinger of victory in November. A keynote of economy in government expenses, in both state and nation, featured the speeches of the candidates.

Senator Frank B. Willis told of the pruning of budgets by President Harding and Coolidge during the past five years and the resultant saving of millions of dollars to the taxpayers.

Mr. Cooper outlined for the first time the principal planks of his platform, which includes a promise to drive a hard bargain for every dollar of the taxpayers' money that is expended while he is governor.

Congressman William Morgan of Newark, chairman of the meetings, introduced the following candidates for office on the Republican state ticket: James O. Mills, for lieutenant governor; Clarence J. Brown, for secretary of state; Edward C. Turner, for attorney general; Bert B. Buckley, for treasurer of state.

The three candidates for supreme judge, nominated at the Republican primary, but whose names will appear on a separate judicial ballot—Chief Justice Carrington T. Marshall and Judges Thomas A. Jones and Edward S. Matthews, also were presented.

Mr. Cooper's Talk
Mr. Cooper, in his speech, pointed away continuously upon the need for better business management and genuine economy in the administration of state affairs.

Pointing to the record of tax reduction and economy in national government, the Republican candidate for governor declared Ohio should fall into line with practical steps to check the rapidly rising cost of state government.

"This increase, he said, has been 20 per cent in the past five years and more than 40 per cent since 1910. Expenditures for the fiscal year which ended June 30th, 1925, were three and a half million dollars more than for the preceding 12 months, but even this, he asserted, does not represent the true seriousness of the situation, since disbursements last year actually were eight million dollars more than receipts—this more than wiping out the treasury balance which, when the present administration took office in 1923, amounted to nearly thirty million dollars.

"The big issue in this campaign," he declared, "is the issue of government and the imperative demand for better business methods." Cooper said, "We have been drifting down stream in public expenditures and the time has come when we must turn around and fight the tide. We are living beyond our income and no business, either public or private, can succeed under such a policy, indefinitely.

"There is nothing in an appropriation act which requires the governor to spend all of any part of money appropriated. Even the 25 per cent of state expenditures over which he has no direct control can be restricted by the action of his director of finance, who should refuse to certify the necessary balances in the treasury when such balances are not there.

At this point Cooper rapped the political "middle-men," who have been reaping a harvest in commissions in dealings with the state government and promised if elected governor, that every department of the state would deal directly with the manufacturer and producer.

Discussing taxation, the speaker advocated the policy of a combined tax limitation and also declared for the principle of debt limitation in all taxing districts.

The Republican gubernatorial candidate took a stand of vigorous opposition to the proposed re-enactment of the one-half mill road tax levy and also said that he was against any increase at this time, in the gasoline tax.

The speaker emphasized the fact that he is a thorough advocate of good roads, declaring, "I believe the task should not be called finished until every home owner on the remotest road is given a road adapted to his needs which will permit him and his family to enjoy the benefits of school, church and social life and transport the commodities of the farm at a reasonable cost."

He said that one of his first steps would be to completely reorganize the highway department to insure efficiency and economy.

Mr. Cooper also promised a re-organization of the welfare department which is the second most expensive department of the state.

Declaring he considered "the necessity for an experienced state fair manager vital to the success of that institution," Mr. Cooper declared that if elected, he would appoint such a man to the post. "The state fair, as well as the entire agricultural department, should be removed from partisan politics," the speaker said. "There is no room in this department for the payment of political debts."

Mr. Cooper made a virtually flat statement that if elected, he would reorganize the public utilities commission.

"The governor has been complaining," he said, "that his hands have been tied by the senate in not confirming nominations which he has made for the utilities commission. In this connection, I wish to say that the names which I shall send to the senate will be of men of my own selection and of such outstanding ability, integrity, training and experience as will insure their confirmation on the part of the senate, regardless of political affiliation."

On the question of law enforcement, he declared that he would "continue to fight for the enforcement of all laws, federal and state."

Declaring the principle of workmen's compensation is a "part of the fixed public policy of the state," he said that "there must be no backward step in this humane system."

Senator Willis' Talk
Supporting his argument that the administration of President Harding and President Coolidge should be followed by Ohio voters through a Republican victory on November 2nd, Senator Willis pointed to the following financial achievements, since the late President Wilson turned over the reins of government to the late President Harding on March 4th, 1921:

1. Payment of $5,000,000,000 of the public debt, this at the rate of approximately $1,000,000,000 per year.

2. Slaughtering of $1,787,000,000 from the annual federal tax burden.

3. Cutting of annual appropriation for government expenses from $6,800,000,000 to $3,214,000,000.

4. Reduction of the annual interest charge of the federal government from $255,000,000 to $155,000,000.

5. Saving of 4,000,000 heads of families in United States in excess of $100,000,000 by reduction of taxes.

6. Repeal of the transportation tax on freight, express and parcel post.

7. Repeal of the so-called "luxury and amusements" taxes.

8. Repeal of the tax on railroad tickets, Pullman tickets, and insurance policies.

9. Restoration of confidence of the people so that government bonds have been raised from 35 cents on the dollar; since President Wilson left office, to par.

"President Harding's administration found a state of war and an embittered, feuding relation with our national enemies in the World War without in any way committing our country to the overlordship contemplated in the covenant of the League of Nations," said Willis.

"The Washington conference for the limitation of armament was the longest step toward international peace and good understanding in its history."

"While the Democratic president left office on March 4th, 1921, 5,000,000 men in this nation were out of employment. The vagaries of Democratic tariff legislation were again beginning to make themselves felt; industry was depressed, factories were closing, furnace fires were dying out, business was at a standstill and a famine like a specter stalked through the industrial regions. The World War was a godsend to the Underwood-Sikes tariff law that prior to the war had been hurrying America straight on the down grade to industrial disaster. This tariff wrought havoc in 1914-1915. A similar Democratic attempt toward tariff revision would bring disaster now."

"Contrast this fact with the present situation. There has been no time in the history of our country when industry and the working people have had the prosperity they enjoy today. The reason is that labor is compensated for on the basis of the American bank note, and not on the basis of European prices. In short, the Republican policy of protective tariffs is in operation instead of the Democratic policy of free trade."

Senator Willis said the farmer has been benefited by the revision of the federal highway act and the providing of $15,000,000 for expenditures on public highways.

Passage of the emergency tariff law raising protective duty on farm products; enactment of the federal warehouse act, the Packers' Stock Yards Regulatory act, the Filled Milk law, liberalization of the Federal Farm Loan law, and passage of the Intermediate Credits act under which needed and merited credit was extended to the tillers of the soil; enactment of the Co-operative Market act, under which such organizations are removed from the restrictions of the Sherman Anti-Trust law.

Weaving Evidence About Daugherty

Evidence offered by the Department of Justice against Harry M. Daugherty and Thomas Miller, who are on trial in United States Court for defrauding the government, has stirred the nation as no case in years back. Daugherty's attorneys have tried to have the indictments quashed but Judge Mack overruled such a motion. The government has offered evidence and traced papers to the Daugherty bank in Washington. C. H. Mel Daugherty, president of the bank, testified that pages from bank records were turned over to Harry, who later burned them to destroy the evidence. Daugherty has taken advantage at every turn to place all blame on his dead friend and former confidant, Jesse Smith, who committed suicide in Daugherty's apartment in Washington. There has been much speculation as to Smith's death and whether he shot himself, or was shot by someone else. It has been noted about that Smith and Daugherty quarreled some hours previous to the supposed suicide.

The Court this week hearing the Teapot Dome scandal that involved Albert Fall, former secretary of the Interior, reversed a lower court in the oil scandal leases paying way for victory for the government.

It is particularly fortunate that the country has a President of such character and qualifications that can not be induced to interfere with court justice. Attorney General Sargent is another that stands "pat" on duty.

Daugherty's friends are mum and saying nothing. In this country his political satellites, Sen. (T) Marshall, Judge Gowdy and Prosecutor Marshall, are making no comment on the situation. The three gathered last winter in Springfield with other Daugherty's followers to capture the Seventh congressional district for Daugherty. At that meeting held behind closed doors the trio made promises to deliver Greene county for the Daugherty candidate for committee, Sherman Deaton. Greene county electors are not delivered as easy as the Daugherty followers predicted.

History of 74th O. V. I.
To Be Written
A history of the 74th regiment, O. V. I., will be prepared by a committee of which Dr. Austin M. Patterson, of Xenia, is chairman. The work was completed following the 57th reunion of the veterans at the Q. S. & S. O. Home.

Seven survivors of the regiment, which was largely recruited from this county, attended the reunion. They were addressed by Rev. H. B. McElreath, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church.

Those who attended the reunion were John W. Hedges and George Moore, ex-Knia; S. T. Baker, Cedarville; W. Hopping, Spring Valley; Alonzo Fugate, Marysville; H. H. Cassell and T. J. North, Vandalia; John Devoe, Wilmington.

Reduced Budget Asked
By Commissioners
The County Commissioners have made a request for $228,000 in the 1927 budget which has been submitted to the budget commission for approval. This is a reduction of $13,500 over the 1926 budget.

The amounts for the various funds are as follows: County, $80,000; infirmity, $22,000; children's home, $14,000; indigent soldiers, $8,500; blind relief, $8,500; mothers' pension, $4,000; election, $4,000; judicial, $8,000; library, $3,000; interest and sinking, $88,000; road, $102,000.

THIRD ANNUAL FAIR
Third annual fall fair of Beaver Creek twp., sponsored by the vocational agriculture department assisted by other high school departments, will be held Thursday and Friday, September 30th and October 1st, at the Knights of Pythias Hall at Alpha.

This year the space within the hall will be given entirely to exhibits and display of entries. All booths will occupy space outside the hall. Such an arrangement, it is believed, will not only provide space for a greater number of entries, but will also give ample room for display. Crowded conditions of past years made this change necessary.

Cash prizes and ribbons will be awarded in all classes.

FAIRFIELD WILL VOTE
Fairfield, one of the smallest incorporated villages in the county wants water-works. The village wants to be up-to-date and the voters will pass on a $30,000 bond issue to have a municipal plant. Osborn has water works, and Yellow Springs will also vote on a $60,000 bond issue. Cedarville must not lag behind. Citizens are now taking an interest and there is much favorable comment for a municipal plant.

PAUL ORR INJURED IN FOOTBALL GAME

Cedarville College Football team opened the season Saturday in Cincinnati but failed to win in a game played in steady rain on a muddy field.

St. Xavier had easy sailing in its season's opener at Corcoran Field yesterday afternoon, defeating Cedarville College 54 to 0. The game was played in a steady drizzle, with Cedarville offering little resistance to the rushing Musketeers.

The first half was played almost entirely in Cedarville territory. Gains of from fifteen to forty yards by the St. Xavier backfield were numerous. Cedarville had possession of the ball only twice during the first half, while the Musketeers were able to roll up a total of 30 points.

Cedarville kicked to start the game. Algeier and Burns promptly rushed the ball the length of the field for a touchdown, Burns carrying the ball over two minutes after the kick-off.

Cedarville again elected to kick-off, and St. Xavier worked the ball back to Cedarville's fifteen-yard line. There St. Xavier tried a forward pass, which was intercepted by Orr. Cedarville endeavored to punt out of danger, but the punt from center was wild, and the ball sailed across the goal line. Tidd, Cedarville quarter back, fell on the ball behind the line for a safety, giving St. Xavier two long runs.

Two more touchdowns followed before the end of the quarter. Kelly and Burns each carrying the ball over points.

Coach Meyer put in practically a new team at the start of the second quarter and Cedarville succeeded in holding the Saints to a single touchdown. Presto taking the ball over. Late in the quarter Cedarville held four downs on the five yard line for the only time during the entire game. The half ended with the ball in possession of St. Xavier or Cedarville's twenty.

The second quarter was marked by many turnovers and became very slippery and neither team was able to hold on to it. With the regulars back in the line-up St. Xavier put over three more touchdowns in rapid order. Meyer then put in his second and third string men and Cedarville began to slow down the Musketeer attack.

During the final quarter Cedarville completed three forward passes for a total of thirty yards, giving them their first down in the game. St. Xavier quickly broke up the aerial attack and succeeded in pushing over a final touchdown just before the close of the game, with Hartlage carrying the ball.

Practically every man on the St. Xavier squad was used in the game and Coach Meyer was able to get a good line on his men under fire. Cedarville also used its entire squad, which was rather limited in numbers. Brown, captain and left tackle, played best for Cedarville.

The line-up and summary: St. Xavier. Cedarville. Goelzer.....L.E.....Becker Wenzel.....L.R.....Brown (Capt.) Schmidt.....L.G.....Jacobs Rapp (Capt.).....C.....Rockhold Scheibert.....R.G.....Snell Tehan.....R.N.....Bethune Nead.....R.E.....Swartzbaugh Daugherty.....Q.B.....Tidd Burns.....L.H.....Orr Allgeier.....R.H.....Nagley Kelly.....F.B.....Rutan

Score by periods: St. Xavier.....24 6 18 6—54 Cedarville.....0 0 0 0—0 Officials—Roger Johnson, referee; Marty Reddington, umpire.

Paul Orr, halfback on the local team, is in Good Samaritan hospital, Cincinnati, suffering from an injury to the head during the game Saturday. It is expected that he will be able to return home in another week.

ELEVATORS ARE SOLD
The DeWine Milling Co. plant in Xenia, owned by John DeWine, was sold last Saturday at sheriff's sale. The highest bid was $8,341 and was that of Thomas DeWine of Yellow Springs, father of the former owner. The Spring Valley Milling Co. elevator has been purchased by Joseph P. Finne & Co., Dayton. The purchase price has not been made known but the property was recently appraised at $5,700. The mill has not been operated for several years.

COLLEGE NOTES

After two years of seclusion following their fatal football experiments, the Antioch clans has sallied forth again to challenge the powers that be. Following the release of Coach Frugh, the sport has been revived again this year under the careful guidance of Mr. Kennedy from Colorado. Accordingly, the annual Antioch-Cedarville battle have been related and the first will be at Cedarville on Tuesday afternoon, October 5th, at 3:00 o'clock.

On November 6th, Cedarville will invade Antioch, but that will be announced later.

The main thing is that the ancient foe of the Yellowjackets will be here next Tuesday and try to take home a local scalp. The proceeds will go to ward supplies and doctor bills of the local squad and in order to insure an enormous crowd and give them their money's worth, the admission will only be 35c. This is of it.

This Saturday, Cedarville goes to Richmond for a four-round scrap with Earlham and we hope they will be somewhat more successful than they were last week.

Crabbe Gives Ruling
On Training Dogs
Sportsmen of this section who have been enjoying the sport of training their dogs in the closed season, will not be permitted to indulge in this sport in the future, according to a ruling of Attorney General C. C. Crabbe.

Crabbe has ruled that there is no provision in the laws of Ohio permitting the training of dogs with rabbits, raccoons or foxes during the closed season and that there is no provision at all for the training of hunting dogs. A copy of the decision has been received here by Deputy Protector John Umbenhauer. —Madison Press.

COOPER HIGHLIGHTS
Promises to drive a hard bargain for every dollar of taxpayers' money he expends. Pledges the appointment of men of outstanding ability, integrity and training on the public utilities commission. Opposes re-enactment of the one-half mill highway levy, which, he says, would take $7,000,000 per year needlessly from property owners. Opposes any increase in state gasoline tax at this time. Promises to act about at once to reduce number of employees on state payroll. Emphasizes need of better business management in state government, as shown by the bankrupt treasury. Declares cost of state government has increased 80% in the past five years, and 430% since 1910. Sounds death knell for "political middlemen," such as are now waiting fat under Democratic rule. Advocates separate manager for state fair, to hold the post so long as he renders efficient service. Promises more strict scrutiny of stock certifications by Blue Sky division.

WILLIS HIGHLIGHTS
Declares Republicans during the past five years have reduced Federal taxes at the rate of $5,000,000 per day, and at the same time paid off $3,000,000 per day on the national debt. Says G. O. P. reduction in income taxes has benefited 90 per cent of those paying, to a tune of one hundred million dollars. Asserts the conference on Limitations of Armament the longest step toward international peace in five centuries. Points to good roads appropriations, immediate credits act, and other laws benefiting the farmer. Asserts reason for present prosperity is that labor is compensated on the basis of the American bank note, and not on European prices. Advocates restoration of public confidence in Uncle Sam by raising value of government bonds from 85 cents on the dollar, to par. Says any Democratic attempt to void tariff revision would repeat the industrial chaos caused by the Underwood-Sikes tariff act in 1914-1915. Lauds early and honorable method of terminating World War employed by Republican administration, without committing our country to the "overlordship" contemplated in the League of Nations covenant.

Attorneys Hint Judge Is Working Them

A bit of strategy is being used to get attorneys in this county to sign a supposed endorsement for Judge R. L. Gowdy for Common Pleas Judge at the November election. It is said that attorneys are invited in and certain matters talked over in which they might or might not be interested in. The attorney soon discovers that he is up against a new situation and he can sign an endorsement or not. Long ago attorneys in this county found it paid to have a friend in court—and some of them fall for the guft and sign up.

Later they discover that their names are only to be used for campaign purposes, but all that is being said is not for publication.

As the elections in the county are the ones who will choose the next common pleas judge, and not the attorneys, it may be that the recent move will have more reaction than the Gowdy-Marshall forces figure on.

Benefit Football
Game Tuesday
A benefit game of football will be staged Tuesday, October 5 on the College Campus. The local college team will meet the Antioch boys on that date. The proceeds of the game go to a fund to meet expenses in connection with any accidents that may befall any of the players in any athletic contest. As Cedarville and Antioch have been "friendly enemies" for a number of years, there should be a good turnout Tuesday.

"DEATH KNELL IS SOUNDED" SAYS FESS

Virtually sounding the death knell of the United States' entry into the World Court, unless that body reconsiders and accepts all five proposed reservations, in so far as the Administration is concerned, Senator Simon D. Fess issued a statement declaring the Senate never would consider submitting a less rigid substitute for its fifth reservation, the "stumbling block" to this nation's adherence.

"President Coolidge will not resubmit a modified proposal for United States' adherence to the World Court, and if he did it would be rejected by the Senate by a practically unanimous vote," Senator Fess declared.

The stand of the Ohio Senator as one of the strongest of the Administration leaders and the fact that he is a close friend of President Coolidge adds significance to this statement. Senator Fess's statement follows:

"Our adherence to the World Court depends upon acceptance of specific reservations. These reservations are couched in simple English and admit of no ambiguity. If these reservations are not accepted satisfactory to nations now members of the Court, we remain out."

"The President will not resubmit a modified proposal to the Senate, and if he did, it would be rejected by practically a unanimous vote."

"The efforts of the League of Nations authorities from Europe to make it appear that the World Court is a creature of the league instead of a statutory body have already prejudiced the American public against the Court. There is no greater certainty than that the United States will not enter this league nor any institution subject to it."

CLAIM AGENT DIED FROM
ACUTE INDIGESTION
Minor W. Monroe, Xenia, claim agent for the Pennsylvania railroad company, died Sunday morning at his home in Xenia. He was suffering when taken from the train, but it proved and later suffered another attack. He has been connected with the claim department for 40 years and was well known over the county. He is survived by his wife, three daughters and a son. The funeral was held Tuesday with interment at Woodland cemetery.

POWER OF THE HILLS

Manifestly ancient Bible people who lived to teach us our faith, regarded the mountains as sacred. Nor are the ancients alone in this sentiment. We climb to the hilltop today as if to be nearer to the source of Good. "Upon all the summits," says Goethe, "is peace." Nor was the sacredness of the mountains, nor the essential reverence for them of the Jewish people and their religious successors impaired by the fact that, through imitation of few idolatrous mountain top practices of the heathen Canaanites, it became necessary for the prophets to warn the people against an excessive devotion to the "high places." The sanctity of the mountain tops may be said to have been restored by the transfiguration, the scene of which the students of the Christian origins find to be that same lofty Mount Herman, the outpost of the Lebanon, loved of the Psalmist.

The cult of the hills is gaining influence in our own country. It is especially strong in New England where the early awe of the White Hills, as of a frightful and forbidding region, has given place to a sentiment in which love is mixed with veneration. The natives of Vermont, surely including President Coolidge, are by no means insensible to the sweet message of their rounded hills. Far to the West in California, we find virtually the whole population climbing the nearest mountain at daybreak on Easter morning every year, and imparting a sense of solemnity to the summits which cling to them all the year. That we find health in the mountains and an exalted pleasure, does not by any means lessen the sense of veneration that we also feel. Returning to our year-long tasks, we continue to "lift up our eyes unto the hills." We may be sure that above the dreamy lowlands of the Potomac the mind's eye, the soul's eye of the President forever has the good green summits of Bald mountain, of Killington and Morgan peak rising as if to shed a benediction on his efforts in behalf of the people.

We go to the mountains for vigor, for deep draughts of pure air, and for keen exercise that thrills the soul and exalts the sentiment at the same time that it renews the body. That influence alone would lead up to lift our eyes to the hills. But while seeking strength and enjoyment, we find that we cannot escape the symbolism of the hills. Always they are the same; here and there is no restlessness of change. In the hills there is "one harvest and one reaper." As were the hills to our fathers, so they are to us, and so they will be to our children. They mock our vanities, our fashions, our feeble and fickle passions. They are real and true in the midst of a life of illusion. They are beauty for the healing of ugliness, and deep calm for the rebuke of vain agitations. "Help" was a good word for their influence. There is no one to whom they cannot bring the assistance of strength, if he who comes to them will have it.—Boston Transcript.

THE IDEAL RICH MAN

Of all the fools that clutter the earth, the biggest fool is the man who boasts of his wealth. We know a man who can talk of nothing else but his accumulation of money. He is interested in no other subject. His whole aim and purpose in life is to pile up dollars and put them out at interest. He has no friends, no intimate associates, no enjoyment in life but to increase his holdings and figure his growing income. Of all our acquaintances he has the least for which to live and yet he considers himself superior to the rest of us. He is the victim of vain pride which is eating his heart and sapping his life.

Some wise old philosopher once said: "Take care, do not confound what you possess with what you are." It is, after all, what you are that really counts. We have heard the clouds rattle on a rich man's coffin and not a tear dim the eyes of those standing beside the open grave. We have watched the casket of a comparatively poor man lowered into the grave while tears streamed down the faces of those who loved him. It isn't what you possess, but what you are, that counts.

It is the pride of the rich that galls the poor. We do not care how much wealth another may have, but when the rich man shows contempt for those of less fortune he arouses rebellion in their hearts. We care not how fine an automobile the rich man may possess, we do not envy him his chauffeur and his gilded trimmings, for our little old fiver will take us where we want to go. But when the rich man in his powerful car crowds us into the ditch or deliberately splashes us with mud we grow hot inside and hate him for his arrogance.

But wealth permeated by the spirit of simplicity is the ideal condition of life. The rich man who has faithful employees that he calls by their first names, a man of means who takes an interest in the civic welfare of his community and gives to all worthy causes, who looks upon his wealth as trust funds, to be invested in human happiness and health is the man who will enjoy the esteem and respect of his fellow citizens.

So when you chance to meet a man at once rich and simple, a man who considers his wealth as a means of fulfilling his mission in the world, you may count that man a friend. He is a man from whom you may seek advice, for he has surmounted obstacles, borne trials and triumphed in temptation. He does not fail to discriminate between the contents of his safety deposit box and the contents of his head or heart, and he does not estimate his fellow-men in dollars and cents. His exceptional position, instead of exalting him, makes him humble, for he is very sensible of how far he falls short of reaching the level of his duty.

YOUR BIRTHDAY Is It This Week?

If your birthday is this week you are exact, determined, just, honest, shrewd, and able. You are an independent thinker, with fine mental ability and can live much within your self. You are reticent, thoughtful, and somewhat proud, and do not make friends quickly. Your reserve causes you to be misjudged as cold and indifferent, but those who learn to know you become warm loyal friends, who appreciate your faithfulness. You are an interesting talker—when you choose to be—and know what you are talking about. You have a well-informed mind, and a vein of keen humor which is very entertaining. Your nature is harmonious, and you have great self control. You can stand a great deal before you lose your temper, but when you do, you become aroused to a high pitch. While not vindictive or revengeful, you have no further use for a person who has offended you. Men born during these dates possess much commercial ability. They succeed as business managers, office executives, brokers, financiers, and statesmen. Women born during these dates are excellent house-keepers, decorators, musicians, actresses, designers, and milliners. Samuel S. Cox, Statesman, was born September 30th.

Annie Besant, writer and lecturer, was born October 1st. MAN WANTED—To sell Nursery Stock for old reliable firm. Pleasant work. Liberal commission payable weekly. Write THE CLYDE NURSERY, Clyde, O. ## Dr. Frank Crane Says

I confess to being strongly affected by this liquor that runs from heart to heart through the spirit veins that web the fabric of all souls. When I meet one who does like me it gives me a kind of depression, I am sick at my stomach a bit, I want to run.

Some people enjoy enemies. They enjoy the spiritual attack! Dislike rather tones them up.

But there are those, including me, who have such weak heads the least intoxicating draught of sympathy or antipathy sets them humming. This class includes also dogs. I have just been over to see a lady who has a dog she calls Ford. Her husband is in the automobile business. I will not offend by saying what Ford looks like. There is a point of ugliness, especially in dogs, which, when passed begins the realm of beauty. He is a sort of glorified microbe. But his main trait is affection.

Ford is a veritable sensitive plant. When his mistress speaks crossly to him he shrinks like a withered leaf. His light of life has gone out. He is killed. He is the picture of utter, abject misery.

And when she speaks kindly he ties himself into bowknots, leans, runs, barks, laughs and turns somersaults.

So when I say I am human as a dog, I feel to be boasting.

Sympathy, ethologically, means "suffering with," and we usually use the term for the communion of griefs only. That is good, of course. It helps a lot for any one to feel sorry because you have bumped your nose. Still, it is a deal easier to share grief than joy. People who understand our moods of happiness are rarer than they that comprehend our woe. If you would be my real and longed-for friend, I pray you to cultivate a capacity for sharing my lighter moments. Then I know that you are genuinely sympathetic, that between us run the cords of a unity, of heart and soul that mean something.

You can't escape. Something you think, when you have been particularly oppressed by the woes of others, that you would be happier if you could crawl into your shell, shut out the rest of humanity and get along with your own personal joys and glooms.

But it will not work. To retreat from your kind is as if the land ran away from the rain or the flowers hid from sunshine. It means dryness, hardness and death.

There are certain goods you get from life as you go along. For instance, there is food and drink for your belly and clothes for your back, shelter for your head and money for your pocket. There is the impact of familiar things at home, the cat and the dog and the old blue china tea set. There is a cigar for a man and a new dress for a woman. There is a deal of enjoyment one way and another, but not the least considerable of all satisfactions in this vale of tears is that warmth which comes to the cockles of your heart when you meet the man who takes to you and believes in you and the woman who understands and likes you.

This world would be a poor slave-pen if all appreciation were banished and there were no greetings of friendship and fat hours of fellowship. For good or ill my friends are a part of me, and so are my enemies.

LECTURE COURSE TICKET SALE STARTS OCT. 6th.

The campaign for the sale of section tickets for the coming lecture course will start Wednesday, Oct. 6th.
The committee has a very promising course for this fall and winter and is worthy of liberal patronage. The committee hopes to surpass the success of the course last year. The cost of the course is somewhat higher and the talent secured will be of a higher standard than in the past. This will be interesting to patrons of the course.
The committee is organized as follows with the membership: Harry Lewis, chairman; Prof. C. D. Oakley, secretary; H. G. Fumett, treasurer;
Rev. R. A. Jamieson, C. E. Masters and Prof. Frasier.

There are five numbers on the course and the first will be Wednesday October 20th.
Remember to have your money at hand when members of the committee make the canvass for tickets on next Wednesday.

FOURTEEN CARS OF CATTLE
UNLOADED AT ONE TIME

Fourteen cars of feeding cattle arrived here by special freight train last Sabbath evening. There were from forty to forty-five head to the car.

Mr. Henry Smith recently made a trip to Texas where he purchased 11 cars of feeders for himself and Arthur Cummings. These cattle will be disposed of to feeders in this section.

Mr. J. B. Rife received three cars from Kansas City and these are to be disposed of to farmers.

The shipment was one of the largest ever received at the local station and it was near midnight before all the cattle were unloaded.

The cattle were most all white-faced which seem to be in demand at this time. The big corn crop has turned more farmers to feeding cattle for this coming year than has been the custom the past few years.

K. K. K. PLANS FOR GREAT RELIGIOUS REVIVAL

A delegation of members of the Klu Klux Klan dropped into town last night and burned a cross near the opera house. Following the burning of a cross on the corner of
of a street in Xenia, a delegation spoke from an automobile as to the visit of the delegation which was to soon start a religious campaign in the county.

The speaker briefly stated that the organization was not what it was two years ago and that members that had dropped out could be reinstated but would have to meet certain requirements. No longer could any man with ten dollars belong, as was the case a few years ago.

Mr. Slagel introduced the Rev. A.
J. Furstenger who reviewed the purpose as well as the history of the Klan. He urged his hearers to stand for the retention of the Eighteenth amendment for that was one of the objects of the Klan organization. He mentioned that an election was not far away, particularly the election of 1928 when a president would be elected. He also stated that at the coming election a governor, United States Senator and Congressmen would be chosen and that these officers must be men that would stand by the constitution and give us law enforcement. He made the prediction that this country would never stand for the nullification of the amendment as the vets wanted.

Rev. Furstenger announced that a great religious revival was to be held in the Klan temple in Xenia and would start about Oct. 10. These services were to be open to the public and for a common cause. The name

Lesson for October 3

ISRAEL JOURNEYING TOWARD CANAAN

LESSON TEXT—Numbers 10:11-36.
GOLDEN TEXT—Come thou with us and we will do thee good.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Journey of Long Ago.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Journeying in the Wilderness.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Israel Learned in the Wilderness.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How God Guided His People.

Israel remained almost one year at Sinai. It was a veritable schooling for them. Their stay was necessary.

1. To allow them to recuperate from the effects of many years of slavery.
2. To train them morally and spiritually for the great work before them.

The wonderful transactions at Sinai served to inspire them with courage and hope, for through them they came to know God as their king and themselves as His covenant people.

3. To have them thoroughly organized.

This was not only necessary for the march, but for the warfare in gaining possession of the land of Canaan.

1. Marching From Sinai at the Hand of Moses (vv. 11-23).

The nation had now grown to a great host—the army itself of 603,550 strong. Allowing three persons to every soldier, there would be 1,810,650. The army was organized into four great sections or divisions with three tribes to each division. The Levites were organized on the basis of the three sons of Aaron—Gerson, Kohath and Merari. The Kohathites had the principal place about the tabernacles—charge of the most precious things. The Gersonites had the things of honor, while the drugstore fell upon the Merarites.

1. The signal given (v. 11).
2. The lifting of the cloud from off the sanctuary was the signal for the camp to be broken and the march to begin.
3. The signal given to rest (v. 12).

Just as the sign to march must be recognized, so the sign to rest must be obeyed.

3. The Commander (v. 18).

God was the Commander through His servant, Moses.

14-19).

As they marched the division led by Judah went forward, followed by Gerson and Merari bearing the coarser part of the tabernacle. Then marched Reuben's division, followed by the Kohathites bearing the sacred vessels of the tabernacle. These were followed by the division of Ephraim and Dan. The ark occupied a central position with the moving caravan.

11. Moses Seeking the Help of Hobab (vv. 24-32).

Hobab was a shrewd child of the desert. Moses thought therefore that his knowledge thereof would be helpful. The children of Israel were going forth under the guiding care of the Almighty. Surely He could be trusted. Certainly He knew that dreadful wilderness.

1. "We will do thee good."

Moses had faith in God's promises to Israel and could well assure Hobab that good would come to him by identifying himself with God's covenant people.

2. "Thou mayest be to us instead of eyes."

Moses still insisted that Hobab should go along, not only for the good he could get but for the good he might do.

111. Marching to Canaan With the Lord as Leader (vv. 33-36).

Even though Hobab did go with Israel, we never hear of his leading the people. The Lord will not have it so. Observe:

1. "The ark of the covenant of the Lord went before them" (v. 33).

The ark, the symbol of the divine presence, moved out of its place in the midst of the camp and took its place at the head.

2. The cloud of the Lord rested upon them (v. 34).

This was an indication that God was not only leading, but governing His people and protecting them.

3. The Lord's vindication (vv. 35, 36).

Moses' unbelief caused a reproach unto the Lord. This action on the part of God vindicated His leadership. Moses gave recognition to this act of God in identifying himself with His people. When the ark rested and set forward, he exclaimed, "Rise up, Lord, and let thine enemies be scattered and let them that hate thee flee before thee," and when it rested—"Return, O Lord, unto the many thousands of Israel."

God's Love

We are taught to think that God's love is the biggest thing in the universe. Let us think of some of the biggest things we know, and then we will lift our eyes upon one that is bigger than all.—J. H. Jowett.

Happiness Counts Most

The will of God respecting us is that we shall live by each other's happiness and life, not by each other's misery. . . . men help each other by their joy, not by their sorrow.
